

CCCN Terms of Reference & Membership

The Canadian Council of Cardiovascular Nurses (CCCN) was founded in April 1973, and incorporated in July 1994. CCCN is a national body composed of ten provincial divisions, each with its own executive committee structure.

CCCN is recognized as a speciality organization by the Canadian Association of Nurses (CNA) certification program.

CCCN maintains the Cardiovascular Nursing Standards on which Cardiovascular Certification exam is based on.

Membership is structured as follows:

Membership with CCCN is offered for a fee on an annual basis, January 1st to December 31st, with a discount available for RN students and retired RNs. Certified nurses can also receive a discount if a 2-year membership is purchased.

Joint memberships with the Canadian Heart Failure Society (CHFS) and Canadian Heart Rhythm Society (CHRS) are also available on an annual basis.

Membership is also extended to International nurses and Allied Health Professionals on an annual basis.

Membership Terms & Conditions

Membership with CCCN is offered on an annual basis, January 1st to December 31st, for a fee. Fees can be found at: <http://www.cccn.ca/content.php?doc=22>

An individual shall be considered for eligibility of membership in CCCN upon application. Final approval of the application and any renewals of membership are subject to the review by the Membership Committee, as to the applicant's qualifications and experience as established by the Committee in its criteria as well as compliance with the Code of Ethics of this association.

Membership payment:

New and renewing members can make payment on-line at www.cccn.ca or my mail to the National Office.

Refund policy:

CCCN memberships are non-refundable and are not transferable.